

My LORD Has Given Me

In the morning when I wake up a smiling dawn greets me
No matter if the clouds appear bleak or gray or it could be a sunny day
I know it is another day to celebrate life
It is another day my LORD has given me!

In the morning, the soothing breeze caresses my face
My whole body is then embraced Awakening my thoughts to feel and see
The grandeur of this world my LORD has given me!
And the gaiety that penetrates my heart
Sends the blooms of love into the crevices of my weary soul
Enlivens the dormant modes within Makes each fiber reverberate and echo then
The love my LORD has given me!

How blessed I am to feel the essence of the day
The moment of the rising sun
The lapping waves of the vast oceans
The truth of each and every day chimes like tolling bells
Death or life is noting not to fear
A celebration always ~
Each day my LORD has given me!

Never A Moment

Never a heartache that GOD does not feel Never a challenge that GOD does not share
Never a danger that He isn't there
Never a moment that He doesn't care

Never a worry that He doesn't know
Never a foe that He does not show you Never an anger that He cannot tame
Never a sinful heart that He cannot clean

Never a woe that GOD does not hear Never a tragedy that He is not near Never a tempest that He's not aware Never does He leave us when we are in fear ~

"Never", says the LORD, "will I leave you!"
"Never", says my GOD, "for I love you!"
Never, never, never....."

In the Stillness of My Life.....

In the stillness of the night, I feel You, my LORD

In the stillness of my spirit, You come

In the stillness of this world, I hear Your voice

My heart and soul rejoice

I sense You, I hear You, I feel You, my LORD

I need You to mend my aching soul

Needing Your touch every moment

In the stillness of the day, I say a simple prayer

Praising and glorifying You, every time, anywhere

In the stillness of the hour, I hold You ever close

You're my strength, my joy, my love and hope, my LORD

In the stillness of the morning, I feel Your touch

In the stillness of each moment, I feel Your love

In the stillness of my life, I understand what You've promised – a journey to take that leads to You

I love You.....
